About The Hotel

InterContinental Melbourne The Rialto is perfectly located on the prestigious Collins Street in Melbourne and offers 253 guest rooms and suites.

The hotel's architecture is a distinctive blend of heritage and contemporary. Be transported from the 1890s of the neo-Gothic façade into the dramatic lobby that overlooks the soaring glass atrium. Built in 1891, the hotel began as two separate buildings that housed the famous Melbourne wool stores, commercial and government offices and residences.

Step outside to experience Melbourne's best luxury shopping and renowned food scene or follow the aroma for the perfect cup of coffee. Wind your way through the hidden laneways or hop on the free city tram and explore Australia's arts and sports capital. Experience award-winning bars and restaurants in a city famous for its food with Alluvial, Bluestone Wine Lounge and Market Lane Bar. Enjoy a drink in our bars or head next door to the buzzing Rialto precinct and experience the array of cafes, bars and celebrity restaurants.

Club InterContinental

Meetings and Events

InterContinental Melbourne The Rialto is ideal for your next meeting, event or conference. Located on the prestigious Collins Street, this central location ensures a stress free arrival and departure experience for all guests.

With 11 private meeting rooms on a dedicated conference floor, excellent restaurants and guestrooms, everything you need to run a successful event is right here. Delegates will have access to convenient undercover car parking, Melbourne's free tram zone and within walking distance to Southern Cross Train Station.

For all event menus, the hotel sources ingredients locally where possible to ensure fresh and natural produce is served to all delegates.

Running along the entire length of the Rialto wing, The Laneway Rooms are impressively appointed with exposed brick and graffiti artwork. This ballroom provides seating up to 370 guests theatre style or 300 in banquet rounds. For smaller groups The Laneway Rooms also have the ability to split into three.

With period-style windows overlooking the atrium and heritage ironwork, the Stock & Trade and Wool & Wheat meeting rooms pay homage to Melbourne's past. Running along the length of the opposite Winfield Wing, the rooms can be used as either two rooms, or four.

Patrick McCaughan, Thomas Fallon, William Pitt and Richard Speight are a series of smaller boardrooms also located on the dedicated conference floor.

The generous pre-function area, with its impressive marble credenza, is designed to accommodate catering, reception and breakout needs, connecting The Laneway Rooms to the Stock, Trade, Wool & Wheat rooms all on the one dedicated floor.
